LAST MEETING OF U. D. C. TILL STATE CONVENTION WHICH MEETS HERE IN MAY.

Pensacola Chapter U. D. C. holds its regular monthly meeting at the residence of the president Miss Lella Reese, this afternoon at 4 o'clock. As this is the last meeting before the coming of the state convention in May, every Daughter is urged to be present and show her interest, as there is much yet to be accomplished in the way of final arrangement of details for the entertainment of the visiting Daughters.

The dates for the convention are May 4, 5, 6, and the convention will be held in the Chamber of Commerce, the first session opening Wednesday morning, May 4, at 10 o'clock. The ladies of the executive board are expected to arrive Monday night and the board will hold its preliminary meeting Tuesday morning.

All other delegates are expected Tuesday night, in time to be present at the first session of the general convention on Wednesday morning. Several social functions have been planned and the prospects are that the serious work of the convention will be tempered by several enjoyable affairs of purely social nature.

Of course, every true Daughter will wish to do all in her power to make the gathering one of distinct success, and each can aid largely by being present in person. This afternoon and cheerfully and enthusiastically encouraging the working Daughters on their way.

THE CAPITAL CITY.

Mrs. Humphries, wife of Senator J. H. Humphries of Manatee, will next week join her husband at the home of Mr. George Greenbow.

Hon. W. B. Lamar and Mrs. Lamar are visiting Mr. Lamar's mother and sister, Mrs. S. B. Lamar and Mrs. Clyde L. Walker. This is Mrs. Lamar's first visit to Tallahassee, and while here Mrs. Lamar and her distinguished husband will be the recipients of many pleasant social attentions.

Mr. Fritz Buchholz has finally won the first Rhodes scholarship in the renowned University of Oxford, England. Some weeks ago the competition for this distinguished honor narrowed down to Mr. Buchholz and Mr. Percival H. Whaley of Pensacola. The award has now been made to the former, and his many friends, with those of his alma mater, the Florida State College of this city, will rejoice in the splendid distinction which he has so handsomely won—Tallahassee cor. T. U.

CRUMPLETS.

Mix into a stiff batter one egg, one-half teaspoonful each of salt and sugar, one pint of milk, and one and one-half pints of flour with which two tablespoonfuls of baking-powder have been sifted; and bake on top of range in greased muffin rings on a hot, greased griddle.

CORN MEAL TOP-OVERS.

Sift four teaspoonfuls of baking-powder with one pint of flour, and mix thoroughly with one pint of cornmeal. Beat four eggs very light, add two tablespoonfuls of lard, one cupful of sweet milk, one teaspoonful of salt, and (alternately) the flour and meal, also sufficient milk to make a smooth batter, and pour into very hot gem tins.

BUTTERMILK SCONES.

Sift together one quart of sifted flour and one teaspoonful each of salt and soda. Rub in three tablespoonfuls of lard and butter (mixed), then mix to a soft dough with buttermilk. Roll out about an inch thick, brush with milk, cut and bake in a quick oven. —Mrs. Regina Rogers, in Pilgrim.

IN HONOR OF MRS. FRANK T. EVANS.

Thursday afternoon, at her home in Riverside, Mrs. Arvid B. Soundstrom gave a most enjoyable afternoon tea in honor of Mrs. Frank T. Evans, daughter-in-law of "Fighting Bob" Evans, one of the most popular officers of the line in the United States navy.

An artist in whatever she undertakes, Mrs. Soundstrom made the occasion delightfully pleasant to her guests. Her pretty home was tastefully arranged with flowers, palms and ferns, and was an attractive setting for the prettily-gowned women who attended.

The hostess and guest received in the reception hall, Mrs. Soundstrom daintily gowning in pale pink batiste, trimmed with quantities of lace; and Mrs. Evans in a pretty creation of white crepe de chine, with trimmings of lace and hand work, relieved by a touch of pale blue.

In the dining room Mme. Jutta Bell, assisted by Miss Gladys Bland, dispensed hospitality from the pretty mahogany table, which had for a centerpiece a graceful spirea. Sandwiches and bonbons, daintily and attractively arranged, together with a deliciously brewed tea, were served.

Mrs. Arthur B. Gilkes presided at the punch table, which was pleasingly appointed.

The interested guests who called were much delighted with the honoree, and will always be glad to welcome her to Jacksonville.—Jacksonville Society in T. U.

AMUSEMENTS.

"THE TAMING OF THE SHREW."

"The Taming of the Shrew" is conceded to be the most amusing of all of Shakespeare's comedies. Pity the victim of Katherine's caustic remarks so much comical situations that there is a constant succession of laughs from beginning to the ending of the play. Many modern farce comedy writers have taken this piece as a model for the most successful works. Not to have seen "The Taming of the Shrew" is to have missed one of the most deliciously humorous entertainments every put on the stage. It is gratifying to announce that this city will have an opportunity to witness Shakespeare's funniest play at the opera house on Wednesday, April 12, where it will be presented by Charles B. Hanford and his excellent company.

The new launch Reeba, owned by W. A. Dunham, had her trial trip yesterday, and developed good speed. The vessel is fitted with a 24-horse power engine and will be used by the owner in making trips to and from vessels and in carrying out excursion parties.

The Reeba is a large vessel and was built in Pensacola. She is considered one of the fastest launches in the harbor, and on her trial trip developed a speed of about twelve knots an hour.

"GAME OF GRAFT" AT TALLAHASSEE

MEMBERS OF "THIRD HOUSE" WILL VIE WITH EACH OTHER IN INFLUENCING LEGISLATION.

The Tampa Tribune publishes the following upon a subject which is of more than ordinary interest at the present time:

The clan of graft and grafters is becoming so amazingly numerous that honest people are becoming alarmed in all spheres of life. One of the most forcible illustrations of the professional "grafter" will be in evidence at the legislature that is now holding forth in Tallahassee. Members of the "Third House" will vie with each other for the purpose of doing honest people and unsuspecting corporations and in a surreptitious manner use the legislators to further their schemes.

The Tribune notes with some astonishment that a bill has just been introduced in the legislature to be known as the "Jim Crow" law or in other words the Tribune ventures the assertion that it is a matter that the honest lawmakers know very little about, but that some of the "Influential Members of the Third House" are the fathers of the bill and that it is being introduced for the special purpose of making the street car companies throughout the state "open up" or in other words turn their money barrels over to them. Innocent lawmakers will push the bill for all it is worth, because they will think that it is a popular idea and will make them solid with the people.

Fact of the business is, the municipalities in which the various street car companies do business should be responsible for the manner in which the cars are run and under the state law should have absolute power over the corporations and dictate to them where colored people should ride. Circumstances alter cases and in every municipality the local conditions are entirely different, hence the legislature should do as little as possible with matters fraught with so much importance where the local governments are concerned.

Things are coming to such a pass that honest people are beginning to inquire: "What is honesty?"

Is it a thing that comes with strict obedience to the law? Does it lie in doing no worse than one's neighbors and keeping clear of the penitentiary?

There seems to be so many codes of morals that the man stands in the middle of the roadway. On either hand he sees people doing things that seem to him wrong. He doesn't know which way to turn or what to do. He finds one code of morals for business and another for the home. He discovers that the things that one can safely do in trade and speculation and politics wouldn't be tolerated for an instant in a place where honor was the motto.

The regular session of the West Virginia legislature adjourned the other day and Governor White convened, at once, the extraordinary session. There was no recess; no time to visit the folks at home.

Yet that legislature at once voted mileage for all of the members of both houses in coming and going; a distance which the members never traveled, and, under the circumstances, could not have traveled.

Governor White, ruggedly honest, vetoed the bill. It is good to know that he stamped his "no" on a measure that is common with legislative bodies. It wasn't big graft. The loot only amounted to a little over $4,000, and according to the Constitution it was "legal graft."

Of course, right-minded men, men who are away and above petty practices of every kind, will argue that a man's conscience must be his guide, and that in his breast there is something that will tell him that this is right and that is wrong.

That is fine philosophy, but after watching the course of politicians and business men, in their daily life, you can not blame those who are not decided in their ideas of integrity for asking, "What is honesty?"
